Take a stroll while feeling the seasonal air around a Japanese garden based on design motif after Miyajima Island
and the Seto Inland Sea

Sankeien Garden

About 6 hectares

Corridor design inspired by Itsukushima Shrine

Stroll garden with a miniature hill and pond

5 minutes' walk from Hiroshima Airport

1. Enjoy the garden scenery while sipping Japanese green tea and tasting Japanese confectionery at "Shiomitei." 2. Weeping cherry blossoms in bloom from late March to early April. 3. Impressive snow-covered scenery in winter. 4. Hydrangea flowers in bloom from early June to early July.

This garden was completed in 1993 to mark the opening of Hiroshima Airport. The garden expresses the rich natural forests, rugged terrain and many valleys and vales of the Chugoku Mountains. The garden also expresses Miyajima Island, the Seto Inland Sea and other scenic spots by using Japanese garden techniques. The name Sankeien is derived from the three images represented: mountain, village and sea. An abundance of seasonal flowers and a variety of plants and trees such as weeping cherry blossoms and Japanese apricot blossoms in spring, hydrangea and Japanese irises in summer, and red maple leaves in autumn provide a brilliance of colors. Enjoy the changing scenery of the four seasons.
